I wish Princess Diana would die already

Get over it assholes. She's dead, and here's the pictures.

I am so sick of benefit concerts, memorials, and auto-erotic asphyxiation jerk off sessions about Princess Diana. Sure people liked her; but for Christ's sake, I'm more upset about my civil liberties dying.

People liken Princess Diana to some kind of Mother-Mary-baked-into-a-grilled-cheese-sandwich type of bullshit. She was a mother, a princess, and a wife.

And now she's dead.

She died in 20 minutes. We have been throwing circle jerk memorials for 5,259,487 minutes now.

Hurry up and die.

Posted by TK (Admin) at 00:27

I can't believe that you would put these pictures of the beautiful Princess Diana. You may feel that we are still mourning her, but guess what, you are just probably insanely jealous of all the fabulous and generous things she has done in her life, which is probably something you would never do or even think of doing!!!

Anonymous on Oct 2 2007, 00:53

How dare you say that about somebody that made people smile you should be ashamed of your self imagin if you died would you like that?no you wouldn't so shutup and don't say bad things about princess diana. Your mother must be gross out that she's your mother.Never again say bad things about people or i'll really get mad. Got it.Good

Anonymous on Dec 3 2007, 22:11

hahaha @ "Or I'll get really mad".

Are you serious?

Anonymous on Jan 3 2008, 21:38

I don't claim to have the smartest readers...

Anonymous on Jan 5 2008, 14:55

hahahahhah nasty

Anonymous on Jan 5 2008, 18:06

The pictures are gruesome. But I do agree that Princess Diana was just a product of hype and has really done nothing extraordinary (a few photo ops with impoverished Africans does not count). Diana made the most of the publicity afforded her as a member of the Royal family, spent her husband's money and generally turned public opinion against the Queen and Charles. I am sorry she went in this way but I do not see why everyone went into hysterics over her.

Anonymous on Jan 16 2008, 01:19

wow, can't believe I am reading such things. 'people' she was a good person who spent most of her time helping those less fortunate. she was slaughtered because of her status and the value of her image. imagine having to give up your freedom in exchange for an appointed position. she was not an actor who knew what she was getting into. she was she was proclaimed her 'rank' because of who she was married to. she will be remembered but never forgotten.

Anonymous on Feb 9 2008, 22:29

who is the asshole? YOU!

She was transferred to an hospital, and you say she died in 20min...

They tried to save her for 3hours...

Get a life! You are so insane, all you want is to make people believe you bullshit...

You just have to go on BBC's website and read the story, that would be something interesting you would do instead of writing all these shit...

Anonymous on Apr 4 2008, 14:34

I have to agree with TK (Admin), sometimes its best to let go. She was a good person, but she was only a person, people die everyday.

Anonymous on Apr 20 2008, 20:48

why would you say something like this everyone well neally everyone loved her and you cant change that with what you write

Blog Export: Please God No, <http://www.pleasegodno.com/>

the reason everyone loves her is not just because she was a princess and a mother but because she helped the unfortunate out.
just get over yourself

Down with the royalty!

Anonymous on Jun 2 2008, 18:32

what you just said was horrific i cant believe you would post something like thaat on the internet you sick basted.
diana was a kind hearted person and someone to look up to and you would say somthing like that. that is dispicable be ashamed.

from prudence and holly and the hole of year 8

Anonymous on Jun 11 2008, 00:08

Hmmm... I agree with everyone here. TK's comment was a bit harsh, but one the other hand it would be nice if the media would leave the poor woman alone already. People die in car accidents all the time -- good people, bad people, all kinds of people. I know that none of those tributes/concerts/fundraisers make it easier for her sons to live more or less normal lives. It must suck to constantly be reminded that your mother died in the most unfortunate circumstances. I'd be pissed off, too.

Anonymous on Jul 23 2008, 13:02

I am sure that I will be right on this stupid subject.

Diana was nothing better than a lady in waiting.

Throughout the years when she was classed as royalty she would still welcome gentlemen friends into her marital home.

Her death was a shock but not a national tragedy.

Best gone and best forgotten.

The only reason women get lost in thought is because it's unfamiliar territory.

Anonymous on Jul 24 2008, 23:11

SHE'LL LIVE FOREVER AND EVER, EVEN AFTER YOUR GONE. IF ONLY THERE WOULD BE A REASON TO REMEMBER YOU ?? HMMM ? NOTHING ?? YEP YOU'LL BE FORGOTTEN RIGHT AFTER YOUR PRONOUNCED DEAD FOR SURE.

Anonymous on Aug 4 2008, 04:40

The guy that posted those pictures and wrote all those rotten things about Diana is a YELLOW BELLIED JERK who would never dare say anything like that outside the safety of his home where he can hide. If you don't want to hear about her then turn off the television. If you do not want to read about her then don't. Maybe someday someone in your family will die like that and photos of them will be posted on the internet and people will say rotten uncouth things like you did. See how you feel if it ever happens.

Anonymous on Aug 9 2008, 15:32

Diana was nothin more than a peasant slut.

All she did was flaunt herself around in the tabloids. She even used to ring the editors up to tell them what she was upto that week.

Good on the photographers getting these pictures on the web.

Good ridance to the silly hag.

All of the angry words and frustration stated here over Princess Diana's memory is your fault not hers. I agree that the media and the public created the Di-mania and the princess Diana fantasy that people still try to cultivate today. And yes there comes a time when it's just healthy to let go. But there is no need to try to diminish the good-hearted person that she was and the truly admirable deeds she performed. These memories should live on but it's time to let others carry on those works and deeds. She would want that. And, although I find the photos sad and gruesome, I have always deplored the phony fairytale version of the crash (as if we could believe it) about how she remained "untouched," and "uninjured" after a wreckage so horrific that one of her earrings was found across the street and the other imbedded in the dash. She WAS injured. It can and should be told. We aren't fooled and it just makes for further fantasy. Let go.

You are void of any feeling whatsoever, and probably live alone, divorced, and have a job you don't like. TK, you need help, and need someone in your life to keep you from going insane, but I am sure you already know that.

Anonymous on Aug 27 2008, 01:03

THATS NOT A REAL PHOTOGRAPH!!! Whomever posted that PHOTOSHOP photo and wrote that uncalled for passage, well all I can say is I hope they passing wont be as rudely desecrated as that author did to Diana. They should be ashamed of themselves and find better usage for their time.

ok. first she is just a woman. secondly she loved the whole celeb culture. thirdly, its been ten years now. who cares! she's prob only just reached her ideal weight. and she was unfaithful. some angel.
Anonymous on Aug 30 2008, 21:22

I must agree, creating some holy saint out of this rich, spoiled person is quite irrational. Human behavior is so puzzling. This person jet-setted about with nary a care or a worry, spending England's wealth like a divorced royal (come to think of it, she was just another rich, snob, divorced English goddigger royal). Yet people worshiped her like she was a god (still do, the dopes).
Anonymous on Oct 1 2008, 03:00

well we must all be sickos to have found this page mustn't we? she was ace. I just wanted to c if anyone was sick enough to have done something like this. Clearly they have. Doesn't make me feel too good about the human race. See you all in hell fuckers (that goes out to the nasty bastards, you know who you are((darignac))
Diana was fab
Anonymous on Nov 17 2008, 16:47

hahahaha...thanks for that! perfect! all these people with no lives admiring some boorish, photo op loving, money grubbing diva...get over it!! so many others to admire in the world and you pick her..why? yeah, guess i'm a nasty bastard...but you all are losers..haha
Anonymous on Nov 25 2008, 21:00

this is probably my favourite blog entry ever.
Anonymous on Dec 17 2008, 04:02

As tragic as her death is to some people she can suck my balls
Anonymous on Jan 7 2009, 19:33

Boo hoo, shes dead its been something like 10 years veryone needs to get over it
Anonymous on Jan 7 2009, 19:34

The gods curse you
You'll never find peace
Death will haunt you, your family and your generations
You will be cut short before your time
Failure will surround you
You will beg for everything you need and want, but will never find it.
You think you're smart?
Talk unnecessarily about the graciously dead?
You'll forever regret this mistake you've made
Cursed be you forever
Anonymous on Feb 13 2009, 02:08

YOU FUCKING HEARTLESS BASTARD. CANT BELIEVE YOU WOULD SAY SOMETHING LIKE THAT AND PUT PICTURES ON ASWELL. ARSEHOLE.
Anonymous on Feb 13 2009, 17:29

Hahaha, the replies to this are fucking priceless. Some people have no lives
Anonymous on Mar 18 2009, 21:41

What's the difference between a Cadillac and a Mercedes?

Diana wouldn't be caught dead in a Cadillac!!!

HAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHA!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
Anonymous on Apr 5 2009, 13:49

Those pictures are disgusting, and you are a completely classless person, with no remorse for human life.
Anonymous on Apr 20 2009, 11:54

TK is one of those closeted internet idiots who crave attention and can only get it by saying something controversial. What next? Will you have a go at the 911 victims for a few more hits? Those who would poke fun at the death of a young mother are as ridiculous as those who would see her beatified.
Anonymous on Jun 5 2009, 07:14

I guarantee you half these people didn't know who Diana was until after she died. People disgust me at how quickly they're willing to defend someone they didn't even know. Shut the hell up all of you. She's dead. Get over it. If you believe in an afterlife, then just be content with knowing she's in a better place, if you don't, then shut the hell up anyway because she's gone and nothing you say or do will bring her back and her memory will fade just as fast as your own life.

Get over yourselves.

Blog Export: Please God No, <http://www.pleasegodno.com/>

"The gods curse you"

I know this thought may surprise you, but a lot of people don't believe in Gods. In the 21st century too. Funny isn't it?

"You'll never find peace"

This coming from someone who sounds more miserable than the person he/she is criticising. LOL.

"You will be cut short before your time"

The way your comment is, you'll probably be put in a mental institution before your time, if you'd not already committed suicide.

"Failure will surround you"

Kind of like it surrounds your comment.

"You will beg for everything you need and want, but will never find it."

Like he's begging for moronic tweets like you to shut up.

"You think you're smart?"

Talk unnecessarily about the graciously dead?"

The graciously dead? The picture doesn't illustrate a gracious death.

"Cursed be you forever"

It's the 21st century, and moreover, it's the internet. Don't talk like you're the author of a fucking scripture.

Anonymous on Jul 24 2009, 07:53

Wow, I am geekin at "I cant believe you would post something like that on the internet you sick basted." I would have posted it on the bulletin board at work!

Anonymous on Jul 26 2009, 04:41

that's awful you could do such a thing like that!
you sick bastard!

do the world a favour and DROP DEAD you freaking asshole!

Anonymous on Jul 30 2009, 22:21

Fuck Princess Di, overpriced whore who got destroyed because she hired a drunk to drive her fucking car. Fuck all you English wankers who are so fucking obsessed with her too, what has the fucking royalty done for you lately? Other than introduce so much inbreeding to your society that not one of you motherfuckers has a normal set of fucking teeth?

"Princess" Di was a slut. Get over it and get over yourself.

Anonymous on Aug 3 2009, 11:13

Firstly Princess Diana was and still is a credit the the British nation. Unlike the USA our country prides itself on our royal family and the billions of pounds they raise for charity every year! Instead of the uneducated Americans who spend billions of pounds every year on fast foods, making the population the most obese in the world!

I mean come on you have sent the whole world into a economic meltdown because you couldn't manage finance! I think that is why the financial capital has been moved to London because unlike the Yanks we do have high education and a bit of common sense!

And maybe you can explain why you are the most hated country in the world? Its definately not jealousy!

I would also like to add that you are a nation of immagrants, with most descended people coming from Britain.

And i don't know where you got the idea of us having bad teeth? As the USA spends the most money on fixing rotten teeth in the world probably down to you're poor diets.

To my conclusion i think one had better get his or hers facts straight and stop a clear jealousy for the most loved nation in the world.

RIP Princess Dianna (loved by so many)

Anonymous on Aug 4 2009, 20:37

there must a more horrific picture. copious amounts blood would have been better.

what a success story she had. married a relative 10 years plus older than her. surprised he had nothing in common with her, except family tree.

maybe that is why so many hillbillies defend her.

killed in a car driven by a drunken chauffeur. very cool.

they interrupted a show, i cannot remember now, to show the live feed of the extraction and failed attempt to resuscitate her.

instant replays, and animated theories. i remember turning off the television after 10 minutes.

another dead royal.

Anonymous on Aug 11 2009, 04:00

yes yes YES YES FUCK THAT BITCH UP HER PUSSY HOLE>!! THAT FUCKING CUNT SHOULD BE REINCARNATED AND DIE AGAIN!!!!!! FUCK HER AND THE DRUNK ASS DICK SHE RODE IN ON!!!
